- Bordeaux
- Cavilam – Alliance Française (Vichy)
- Lyon
- Montpellier
- Nice Côte d'Azur
- Paris ile de France
- Rouen Normandy

The three winners will choose, according to their ranking, the city in which they wish to go. The winner with the most points at the end of the international final will first choose the city in which he wishes to go, and successively. Once a city is selected, the next winner will have to opt for a different Alliance.

The stay includes:

- Alliance Francaise fees (registration and lessons),
- Family accommodation with half board (breakfast and dinner),
- Transport from the airport closest to the winner's home to Paris, and from Paris to his departure airport.
- If necessary, transport (train or bus) to go to the city of your choice, round trip. Intercity transport tickets (bus, metro, RER, etc.) are not included.

All other costs not included (insurance, extra baggage, etc.) in the prize will be the responsibility of the winners. In the event that the winner must obtain a visa to stay in France, it will be their responsibility to take the necessary steps.

The three winners will have to make their choice and inform the Alliances Françaises de France that they have chosen 4 months in advance. Failure to comply with this deadline constitutes grounds for cancellation of the prize.

The winners will have to choose dates that correspond to the course programs offered by the Alliances.

4.1. Validity

The winners of the international final must complete their stay no later than September 2023. If they cannot enjoy their Prize before this deadline, they will lose the benefit.

The winners of the international final have the option of transferring their prize to a member of their family (parents, children, brothers/sisters) aged 16 or over.
